

Quarantine Charades/Pictionary

Thanks for downloading our April freebie!

Print and cut out these cards to play a fun quarantine themed game of charades or pictionary. There are blank cards for you to fill in your own words if you'd like.

Charades: Divide your family/group into two teams. Set your timer for 1 or 2 minutes, depending on the level of challenge you want. One representative from each team will draw cards and act it out in the allotted time. However many cards are acted out and guessed correctly is the number of points your team earns for that round. Discard those cards. The actor may not speak or use any noises to act out their card.

Pictionary: Follow the instructions above, but instead of acting the cards out, draw them on a whiteboard or on paper. You are not allowed to write any words that give clues and no talking is allowed. Your team earns points by the amount of cards guessed in the allotted time.
